

1. In Shopify, the product price and title always appear together, and we can't add anything between them by default.
2. No, during the meeting, the sir said that in the header, the menu should start with the first 'A' of "Ariana" and keep it as the base.
3. Offers need to share
4. Icons size is same as old website
5. Kapil sir already told ariana team to resize the images
6. Done
7. We can't remove that color because its code is coming from the theme, and it represents the product's color. The colors displayed above are showing the product's swatches. We can only change the swatches shown above to images of the product.
8. Border line of color swatch is already grey that is the color we already discuss
9. They already in a box that is on old website
10. The styling of all the details on the product page is currently the same as it was on the previous website. I have made changes based on what Shopify allows us to customize.
11. I can't make the box size smaller than this because if I do, the text inside it starts to overlap. If I make the font thinner, it affects other content on the product page since the classes are the same. I can't change the classes because everything in the theme is running in a loop, and making changes would affect many areas of the website.
12. I already told about this to the app support team they are working on this
13. In Shopify, the color for all elements is determined together, which is why when you inspect and scroll down, you won't see the direct color code. Instead, you'll see a variable name representing the color.
14. No, I have checked on most systems here, and there isn't any issue with page loading. The page loads in less than 2 seconds on all systems.
15. This price will not be reflected on the product page; it will only show on the checkout page. You can see how the product page will look on the website by selecting from the options on the product page.

16. The design of the product page description is correct for all products. You can check the screenshot, and it's the same as it was on the previous website.

17. This section is coming from the app, and the app does not provide us with the functionality to remove the background color of the button completely. We can only change the background color of the button.
18. Currently, all filters are in this order, and Shopify does not provide a filter for design, which is why there isn't a design filter available. I also tried using a third-party app to add a design filter, but it didn't work. The material filter will only show when a product has a material specified. That's why there is no material filter, as there are no products with material variations right now.
19. I have added a button on the product page for out-of-stock items, like "Notify me when it's available." When a customer clicks on this button, a pop-up will appear where they can enter their email to receive details about the product when it becomes available again. If you want inventory-related notifications, you'll need to use paid third-party platforms, as Shopify's backend does not send inventory-related messages.

21. We can create icons for these headings: COD Available, Free Shipping, Easy Return, Made in India, and Ethically Made. The size of these icons is fixed, meaning the icons will appear on the website in their current size. The size of the icons will only decrease if the new icons are smaller.
22. I have added the features to the website as Amit Sir instructed me to do.

26. I have added the same address on the Contact Us page that was on the previous website. If you want to add any other address, you can send it to me, and we will add it to the website.
27. Working on it
28. This contact form is provided by Shopify itself, so we can't make any changes to it except for adding text. We can't style it exactly like the previous website.
29. We can't change the Contact Us form because Shopify provides it by default.
30. I have added the career form in the way that is currently possible; we can only add it this way. We can't add it below the form because Shopify doesn't allow changes below the contact form, nor does it let us modify it. The "upload file" option is also coming from the app, so we can't make any changes to it either.
31. This is already in one line.
